RomanCyrillic Std: new in v. 7

VERSION 6 of RomanCyrillic Std implements all relevant additions from Unicode versions 9 (2016), 10 (2017), and 11 (2018).

Mainly, they are:

- Glagolitic superscripts (transliterated here);
- Typicon symbols and marks (East Slavic Orthodox printing);
- Various small additions and corrections.

In this documentation, new additions are marked in red; other notes are in blue.

RomanCyrillic Std: its mission

ROMANCYRILLIC STD ENABLES SCHOLARS, especially Slavists and Medievalists in general, linguists, editors, teachers etc. to display and write all the characters they need - including historical ones, accents, diacritics, phonetics etc. It's the Swiss Army knife of fonts for the Latin, Greek, Coptic, and Cyrillic script - plus many more transliterated ones (like Glagolitic). It is updated regularly in accordance with new releases of the Unicode® standard. The font blends perfectly with Times® and Times New Roman®, and does many things better much than these!

The font is free for academic use. Commercial licenses are available. The font is not in the public domain. No modification or disassembling is allowed. All rights are reserved by the author.
